NEW POSSESSIONS

A Congressman on Their Various Needs.

Representative Moody of Masachusetts on Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Representative Moody of Massachusetts, who is a member of the Appropriations Committee, and one of the strong men of the House, says that he thinks there will be important legislation this winter.

With reference to financial legislation he said today that he had no doubt that a financial measure would be passed. Just exactly what form it would take could not be told at this time, but he thought there would be a satisfactory adjustment between the House and the Senate on the subject.

ALASKA, HAWAII AND PORTO RICO

"There are three of the possessions of the United States which I think Congress will legislate for during the coming session. These are Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico. Each of these possessions should as soon as possible be given full territorial form of government. We know about them; there is no doubtful question and no excuse for their being kept in their present condition. I remember that in the last Congress we were considering in the Appropriations Committee an item for the erection of an additional schoolhouse in Alaska and there was no one here who knew what were the local needs of that Territory. I thought then that it was a shame the Territory should be left in this helpless condition with no local government and no one to make known its needs to Congress and look after its people's interests. The relations of Hawaii and Porto Rico toward the United States are fully understood and there is no propriety in holding them without a popular form of government."

"As to Cuba, I do not see that there is anything that can be done now as to a permanent form of government.
We are pledged to give Cuba complete independence as soon as a stable government can be formed, but when this will be no one can tell. I believe it will be a difficult task, and that it will be a very long time before the Cubans are prepared for independence."

THE WATER SHORTAGE

Superintendent Brown Wants People to Use Supply Frugally.

Mr. Andrew Brown, superintendent of the Waterworks Bureau, said yesterday evening that unless the residents of Honolulu use water frugally there will be almost certainly a shortage before long. As long as the pumps can be kept going there will be a reasonable supply in the district furnished thereby, but as a great deal will be needed in cleaning and flushing the infected districts of the city the supply must be used with caution by everybody.

The Nuuanu valley supply is also quite short. In reservoir No. 1, the largest, there are now only nine inches of water. In the No. 2 reservoir there are five feet and in No. 3 about six feet. If carefully used the department will be able to pull through, as there is a limited supply now running into the reservoirs daily. Mr. Brown especially requests that the published hours for irrigation be strictly observed for the present, or the department will be forced to shut off the water now used for that purpose.

IS NOT INFORMED.

Mr. Pain Thinks Transfer of Tram way Interests Unlikely.

The dispatch published elsewhere stating that the present horse car lines in the city had been absorbed by a Cleveland, Ohio, syndicate was referred last night to Mr. Pain, manager of the Hawaiian Tramways Company, who said:

"I know absolutely nothing of such an arrangement and I do not think it likely. The Hawaiian Tramways Company is an English corporation and the majority of the stock is held in England."

Sale of Fancy Work.

An exhibition sale of elegant fancy work, eminently suitable for Christmas gifts, will be held at Henry Williams' store, on Fort street, on Monday and Tuesday next. The entire work was executed by Mrs. Williams and includes sofa cushions in exquisite designs, Oriental and fancy patterns. Especially fine is a cushion upon which has been painted and worked the figure of a Geisha girl, the completion of which must have entailed considerable time and close attention. Pin cushions, tray cloths, pen-wipers, elegant ladies' handkerchiefs, decorated glass glove, jewel, necktie and handkerchief boxes, comfort and shopping bags, dressed dolls and a long list of other articles, all most artistically executed, make up a most charming display of fancy work, well worth a long trip to see.
The sale will commence at 9 o'clock on Monday morning and continue till Tuesday afternoon.

Nothing to Say.

President Dole's attention was called yesterday to that part of President McKinley's message which treats of Hawaii and he was asked for his opinion thereon. The President replied that under the circumstances he preferred not to express an opinion.
